

FOOTPADS
IN CUSTODYas the Men Who Held David Dringer and W. O. Fayerweather.Are Said to Be Members of a Gang Which Has Been Terrorizing Paterson.

MADE A DESPERATE RESISTANCE.

McCormack Found Himself Looking Into the Muzzle of Hogan's Revolver, but Succeeded in Capturing His Man.Paterson, N. J., April 14.—Two of the highwaymen who held up David Dringer and W. O. Fayerweather on Broadway last night have been arrested by the police.Officer Gibson made the first arrest, in the person of a fellow named Hogan. The latter had the patrolman covered with a revolver, but the officer drew his weapon and ordered the highwayman to drop his arms, or he would fire. This had the desired effect, and the highwayman was taken into custody.Upon investigation it was learned that Hogan's revolver was empty, otherwise Gibson might have been killed. This afternoon Police Officer Kelly arrested Frederick Jenner, the other desperado, on Marshall street. He was known to be a companion of Hogan and was suspected of an accomplice in the attempts at robbery.As soon as the officer seized him he (Jenner) attempted to draw his pistol, but the police officer was too quick and plucked his arms. He was taken to the police station and refused to give any information regarding either himself or Hogan. A fully loaded revolver was taken from him. He was fully identified by John I. Hayes, who was present when the attack was made upon Dringer and came near being a victim himself to the bullets which were indiscriminately fired by the two robbers.Further developments in the case of Fayerweather, who was held up by the same gang the same evening, show that he was repeatedly fired at by his assailants. Fayerweather is an officer of the Passaic Rolling Mill Company and was on his way to the house of Robert Barbour, president of the Passaic Spinning Company, to call for his daughter, who was spending the evening with the family.At a dark corner he was halted by Hogan, who had several other men with him. Without hesitation he struck with all his strength and landed on Hogan's face. Then he ran as fast as he could, but had not gone very far before numerous pistol shots were fired at him. Two of the bullets passed through his overcoat, which he carried over his arm.The same gang have evidently been the perpetrators of all the outrages recently committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark was held up by a gang of Broadway, near Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let
him go.The same gang have evidently been the
perpetrators of all the outrages recently
committed here. On April 5 Frederick Clark
was held up by a gang of Broadway, near
Auburn street. When stopped he succeeded
in getting a firm hold on the pistol with
his teeth and refused to turn it loose. In
the meanwhile the robbers, expecting the
arrival of assistance for Clark, agreed to let him go.

A LIMIT TO SALOONS.

The Thirty-Three Weehawken Liquor Dealers Want a Monopoly on Thirty-Three Saloons.While the Baines bill was intended for New York State only, its effect is being felt in Hoboken, Jersey City, Union Hill and other portions of New Jersey. The temperance element of New Jersey appreciated the fact that the enforcement of the new law would have a tendency to drive thousands of thirty New Yorkers across the North River, and started a movement to head it off. It was the general belief that a number of new saloons would be opened, and the saloonkeepers who are fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-keepers.The liquor dealers of West Hoboken and Union Hill got up a petition a week ago, requesting that no more licenses be granted. Last night the Weehawken liquor sellers dropped into line and presented a petition to the Council, praying that the number of licenses be restricted to thirty-three, the number already in force. The petition contained the signatures of many well-known local temperance people, and the Council, looking at the moral side of the question, passed a resolution to that effect.The result will be that the thirty-three doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-
keepers.The result will be that the thirty-three
doctors will be the only saloons in the
city, and the saloonkeepers who are
fortunate enough to have places already
established joined hands with the temperance
people to prevent the granting of more
licenses. It was a case of principle
on the part of the temperance people and
selfishness on the part of the saloon-keepers.SENT TO JAIL FOR WANT OF A DOLLAR.Aged Frederick Sass Could Not Pay His Poll Tax and Was Locked in a Cell.Strangers Took Up a Collection and Secured His Release After a Few Hours.

AN OLD RESIDENT OF WOODRIDGE.

He Pleaded with Constable Young, but the Latter Insisted on Having Him Committed to Hack-sack Jail.Hackensack, N. J., April 14.—Frederick Sass, one of the oldest residents of Woodridge, was brought to the jail here to-day, charged with failing to pay the poll tax of $1.40. Sass is seventy-six years old and practically destitute.When Constable Young called on him and demanded payment of the tax the old man explained that he had not a dollar in the world, and he thought he should be exempt from the tax. The constable was obdurate, and said it was either the payment of the $1.40 or a commitment in the County Jail.The old man pleaded, but the constable said it was not in his power to use discretion in the matter, and he bundled the old
fellow into a wagon and brought him here,
and was about to lock him up when several gentlemen who happened to hear of the case became interested and hastened to the office of the County Jail to learn if the facts were as reported.It only required five minutes for them to make a collection of dimes and nickels sufficient to satisfy the demand of the State, which calls for the payment of a poll tax
of every individual who enjoys the privilege of casting a ballot.The law imposing a term in jail for the non-payment of poll tax is, together with a number of others, of an ancient character still in force, although it is regarded as a dead letter in a majority of the counties of the Commonwealth.The old man pleaded, but the constable
said it was not in his power to use discre-
tion in the matter, and he bundled the old
fellow into a wagon and brought him here,
and was about to lock him up when several gentlemen who happened to hear of
the case became interested and hastened to
the office of the County Jail to learn if
the facts were as reported.It only required five minutes for them to make a collection of dimes and nickels sufficient to satisfy the demand of the State,
which calls for the payment of a poll tax
of every individual who enjoys the privilege of casting a ballot.The law imposing a term in jail for the
non-payment of poll tax is, together with
a number of others, of an ancient charac-
ter still in force, although it is regarded
as a dead letter in a majority of the counties of the Commonwealth.The old man pleaded, but the constable
said it was not in his power to use discre-
tion in the matter, and he bundled the old
fellow into a wagon and brought him here,
and was about to lock him up when several gentlemen who happened to hear of
the case became interested and hastened to
the office of the County Jail to learn if
the facts were as reported.It only required five minutes for them to make a collection of dimes and nickels sufficient to satisfy the demand of the State,
which calls for the payment of a poll tax
of every individual who enjoys the privilege of casting a ballot.The law imposing a term in jail for the
non-payment of poll tax is, together with
a number of others, of an ancient charac-
ter still in force, although it is regarded
as a dead letter in a majority of the counties of the Commonwealth.The old man pleaded, but the constable
said it was not in his power to use discre-
tion in the matter, and he bundled the old
fellow into a wagon and brought him here,
and was about to lock him up when several gentlemen who happened to hear of
the case became interested and hastened to
the office of the County Jail to learn if
the facts were as reported.It only required five minutes for them to make a collection of dimes and nickels sufficient to satisfy the demand of the State,
which calls for the payment of a poll tax
of every individual who enjoys the privilege of casting a ballot.The law imposing a term in jail for the
non-payment of poll tax is, together with
a number of others, of an ancient charac-
ter still in force, although it is regarded
as a dead letter in a majority of the counties of the Commonwealth.The old man pleaded, but the constable
said it was not in his power to use discre-
tion in the matter, and he bundled the old
fellow into a wagon and brought him here,
and was about to lock him up when several gentlemen who happened to hear of
the case became interested and hastened to
the office of the County Jail to learn if
the facts were as reported.It only required five minutes for them to make a collection of dimes and nickels sufficient to satisfy the demand of the State,
which calls for the payment of a poll tax
of every individual who enjoys the privilege of casting a ballot.The law imposing a term in jail for the
non-payment of poll tax is, together with
a number of others, of an ancient charac-
ter still in force, although it is regarded
as a dead letter in a majority of the counties of the Commonwealth.The old man pleaded, but the constable
said it was not in his power to use discre-
tion in the matter, and he bundled the old
fellow into a wagon and brought him here,
and was about to lock him up when several gentlemen who happened to hear of
the case became interested and hastened to
the office of the County Jail to learn if
the facts were as reported.It only required five minutes for them to make a collection of dimes and nickels sufficient to satisfy the demand of the State,
which calls for the payment of a poll tax
of every individual who enjoys the privilege of casting a ballot.The law imposing a term in jail for the
non-payment of poll tax is, together with
a number of others, of an ancient charac-
ter still in force, although it is regarded
as a dead letter in a majority of the counties of the Commonwealth.The old man pleaded, but the constable
said it was not in his power to use discre-
tion in the matter, and he bundled the old
fellow into a wagon and brought him here,
and was about to lock him up when several gentlemen who happened to hear of
the case became interested and hastened to
the office of the County Jail to learn if
the facts were as reported.It only required five minutes for them to make a collection of dimes and nickels sufficient to satisfy the demand of the State,
which calls for the payment of a poll tax
of every individual who enjoys the privilege of casting a ballot.The law imposing a term in jail for the
non-payment of poll tax is, together with
a number of others, of an ancient charac-
ter still in force, although it is regarded
as a dead letter in a majority of the counties of the Commonwealth.The old man pleaded, but the constable
said it was not in his power to use discre-
tion in the matter, and he bundled the old
fellow into a wagon and brought him here,
and was about to lock him up when several gentlemen who happened to hear of
the case became interested and hastened to
the office of the County Jail to learn if
the facts were as reported.It only required five minutes for them to make a collection of dimes and nickels sufficient to satisfy the demand of the State,
which calls for the payment of a poll tax
of every individual who enjoys the privilege of casting a ballot.The law imposing a term in jail for the
non-payment of poll tax is, together with
a number of others, of an ancient charac-
ter still in force, although it is regarded
as a dead letter in a majority of the counties of the Commonwealth.The old man pleaded, but the constable
said it was not in his power to use discre-
tion in the matter, and he bundled the old
fellow into a wagon and brought him here,
and was about to lock him up when several gentlemen who happened to hear of
the case became interested and hastened to
the office of the County Jail to learn if
the facts were as reported.It only required five minutes for them to make a collection of dimes and nickels sufficient to satisfy the demand of the State,
which calls for the payment of a poll tax
of every individual who enjoys the privilege of casting a ballot.The law imposing a term in jail for the
non-payment of poll tax is, together with
a number of others, of an ancient charac-
ter still in force, although it is regarded
as a dead letter in a majority of the counties of the Commonwealth.The old man pleaded, but the constable
said it was not in his power to use discre-
tion in the matter, and he bundled the old
fellow into a wagon and brought him here,
and was about to lock him up when several gentlemen who happened to hear of
the case became interested and hastened to
the office of the County Jail to learn if the facts were as reported.

RESENTS THE ACCUSATION

Hutchinson Denies That He Went to Europe Because He Feared to Face Criminal Prosecution.Application was yesterday made to Chancellor McGill, in Chambers, Jersey City, to have parts of an answer filed in the case of Archibald A. Hutchinson against Isaac B.
Van Voorhis stricken out as scandalous and impertinent.The suit is one for an accounting, brought by Van Voorhis by Hutchinson. Both parties reside in Pittsburgh. Hutchinson several years ago being one of the most prominent residents of that city. He was a director in several of the banks and owned a large amount of property.Hutchinson had become involved in difficulties, and when one of the banks in which he was a director failed he was accused of being responsible. He finally went to Europe, after appointing Van Voorhis his attorney-at-law. Hutchinson did not return for several years.Van Voorhis in the meantime had straightened out his affairs and ended all possibility of Hutchinson being prosecuted criminally. The worry and hard work had made Van Voorhis ill. He turned all the papers over to Hutchinson. The latter with the aid of expert accountants, audited the report and left $10,000 in Van Voorhis's hands to cover his legal expenses.Van Voorhis's mind finally gave way under the strain. The matter of final settlement rested for three years. Now Hutchinson has started in addition to compel Van Voorhis to account all over again.The portions of his answer that Hutchinson desired stricken out were the statement that Hutchinson went to Europe because he did not dare to face his creditors, and that he had been brought back to the New Jersey courts because his case would be thrown out by the Pennsylvania courts.Chancellor McGill reserved his decision.
Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation.

Hutchinson resented the accusation